1. Connellsville will purchase from Frazier all land, building, and contents property interests held by Frazier through joint ownership with Connellsville for a total amount of $400,000.00, generally based on the Frazier proportional amount of the mutually obtained unbiased appraisal of $2,000,000.00.
2. Said purchase will be consummated upon the acceptance of this agreement, and full payment will be made on or before June 30, 2001.
3. Business will continue to be conducted by the Vo-Tech Joint Operating Committee through June 30, 2001.
4. The joint operation of the Vo-Tech will cease after June 30, 2001.
5. Frazier shall enjoy full privileges and voting rights through June 30, 2001.
6. Frazier will have no financial or legal responsibility for on-going Vo-Tech activities after June 30, 2001, or for any costs incurred prior to that date for services, or benefits to be received after June 30, 2001.

7. Connellsville will operate the Vo-Tech exclusively effective July 1, 2001, and assume, manage, and/or terminate all existing Vo-Tech operational contracts and related matters.
8. Frazier students may continue to attend the Vo-Tech on a tuition basis as so desired.
9. Frazier will receive its share of the 2000-2001 fiscal year fund balance as calculated in the usual manner following the annual audit of all accounts.
10. For sales agreement purposes, it is agreed that the Statement of Insurable Values, dated October 31, 2000, will be used to determine the ratio of building value and content value. The insurable value of the building is $6,408,663.00. The insurable value of the contents is $1,879,131.00. The grand total of both values is $8,287,794.00. Thus, the contents equals 23% of the total. 23% of the $400,000.00 sale price yields a content value of $92,000.00 and a building and land value of $308,000.00.
11. All costs associated with the transfer of the real estate will be shared equally by the parties including, but not limited to, the real estate transfer tax, if any, recording costs, etc..
12. The Pennsylvania Department of Education will be advised of the Discontinuance of the Articles of Agreement and both parties shall comply with any and all directives and mandates therefrom. Each party shall be responsible for its own costs.
